

Turn Beauty Inside Out

Patch Program – Complete all activities to earn this patch.

1. Survey five people to find out what they think inner beauty is. Discuss these answers with your troop and then create a troop definition of inner beauty.
2. Select an art form (film, painting, sculpture, photography, literature, etc). Select two or three pieces from your chosen field. Answer the following:
 - How does this piece portray women?
 - Is this realistic based on your experience?
 - Is this how you want women to be seen in the future?
 - What do you think the artist intended with this piece?
 - How does this work fit in with your troop's definition of inner beauty?
3. Find two women from past or present times who demonstrate your troop definition of inner beauty. Why and how?
4. Create a play about the importance of inner beauty and how you can appreciate it in others.

Note to leaders: Please feel free to adapt requirements to suit the age and ability of your troop, but try to keep your choices challenging and in the spirit of the patch.
